A ROUND OF TALK.

Rural Felicity.

With cotton soaring to the sky,
With stacks of corn and "water pie,"
With juicy melons on the vine,
With yellow-legged chickens fine,
Why should we whine?
With hosts of friends and loved ones true,
With facilities but few,
With happy homes, where children play,
Throughout each joyous summer day,
Why should we pine?

With flocks and herds in pastures wide,
With those transparent waters play,
The merry trout the living day,
Free from dismay.

Nearer true happiness could we,
In this world ever hope to be?
Perseverance, it fills us with delight,
To gaze upon the wonders of night,
From morn till night.

Ye city folk, can you not glean
A lesson from this rural scene?
Does not the scent of new-mown hay
Attract your weary steps this way
Each gladness day?

On all this beautiful domain,
Astonish fields of waving grain,
Elysian land but mellow tones,
The joys of countless happy homes,
Where want ne'er comes.
J. L. FRITCHETT.

COLORED FAIR.—The colored folks annual fair which was held here on last week attracted the usual big crowd especially on Saturday and was quite a success financially and otherwise. There was one feature of the colored fair which was eliminated this year and which marks a reform which the officials of the white association would do well to imitate. There were no gambling devices of any description in operation on the grounds.

Our colored brethren are to be commended in their action toward cutting out the professional gamblers from operating at the fair for they certainly do add nothing but trouble to their fair. It is more than probable by the way that the day of the gambler and hold-up man at the Springfield fairs are past anyway. The sentiment of the general public is against it and it is likely that the directors of the fair company will refuse to let the privileges again another year.

BOTH CLAIM IT.—Representative W. D. Claybrooke has returned from Louisville where he has been hobnobbing with some of the state politicians and has become posted on late political gossip. The senatorial contest is the chief topic of discussion just now Mr. Claybrooke says, and both Paynter and Blackburn friends are claiming to have the race won. Percy Hall claims that they have polled the State and can show that Blackburn is not in the race at all. Blackburn men are of course making similar claims for their man. So far as Washington county is concerned Blackburn seems to be the choice of the Democratic voters in the race for senator. Representative Claybrooke who is also a candidate for re-election has not yet declared himself in the race and says that he has promised one as to how his vote will go and probably will not do so until after the election. A great many representatives and senators throughout the state are in the same attitude which makes figures on the result very uncertain at this time.

STILL TRYING.—Although there is apparently a lack of interest being shown in getting out a ticket for county officers there are a good many Republicans throughout the county who are insisting on an effort being made to put out a ticket, if possible. The County Committee will meet here on next county court day for the purpose of calling a convention for about Sept. 30th, at which nominations for county officers will be made. It is thought probable that all the nominations for some of the offices will be made and that there will not be a walk-over by the Democrats at the November election by any means.

Fine Hogs.

Dr. H. D. Rodman, of Jockeydale, Ky., has just returned from the Toronto, Canada, National Exposition. This is an annual and permanent institution, and Canada people think it is the best and "Biggest Show on Earth." Dr. Rodman says the display of sheep and bacon hogs was especially fine. He purchased and brought back with him several large Yorkshire sows to his herd. One of them was a gilt picked from the herd which won first prize in the sweepstakes ring, and another was a 6 months old boar, which was second in his class. Dr. Rodman expects to exhibit these at the State Fair at Lexington, next week.—Farmers Home Journal.

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy, Level, Va. He says, "I had a terrible chest trouble, caused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; but, after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world. At Haydon's drug store; 50c and $1 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

A Fight for Life.

While Mr. T. W. Armstrong, who lives near Bonta's schoolhouse, was out in the field at work last Saturday he encountered a large spreading viper. He attempted to kill it when the reptile showed fight and attacked him, and it was only after a long hard struggle that he succeeded in killing it. Several times the snake had Mr. Armstrong running for his life, till he was forced to stand and fight. The same day, going home, he picked up a hollow log and carried it to his woodpile. Upon chopping it up he found a big black snake inside, which he cut in two with the axe. Thinking it dead he flung the remains aside. After standing down that evening he heard a terrible commotion among his poultry, and hurrying out to investigate he discovered the foot half of the snake chasing a big turkey gobbler. In cutting it he had evidently cut below the vital part, and in the cool of the evening the snake had revived and feeling hungry had attempted to fill up on chicken. Mr. Armstrong quickly severed the head, this time making sure he did the job thoroughly.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Week More Given

The Executive Committee of the Burley Growers Company met in this city Monday, but as they had only a partial report from the different counties they deemed it advisable to wait another week longer before making a final announcement of the result of the canvass for stock by the Chairmen from the different counties. There still remains to be subscribed about $40,000 of the $250,000 required before the organization can be effected. It is hoped that the necessary amount of stock will be taken and that when the Executive Committee meets again the early part of next week they can announce that the full amount has been subscribed and the permanent organization effected. President Hawkins stated that while he would not announce the full success of the company, the meeting had developed enough to permit him to say that it would undoubtedly be a success after one more week of hard work on the part of the officers and canvassers, who are now in the field to secure subscriptions from the farmers.—Ky. Observer.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." C. J. Haydon, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

Her Reply.

A lady received the following reply from a neighbor in answer to the question why she allowed her children and husband to "sit" up every room in the house, and the sentiment will find lodgment in the heart of every home-loving person in the land. "The marks of the little muddy feet upon the clean floor can be easier removed than the striae when these little feet go down into the mud of the highway to evil. The prints of the little fingers on the window pane cannot shut out the sunshine half so well as the shadows that darken the mother's heart over that one who is but a name during the coming years. And if my John finds his home a refuge from care and trouble, and his greatest happiness with in its four walls, he can put his boots in the rocking chair, and hang his coat on the floor every day in the week. And if I can stand it and he enjoys it, I can not see that it is anybody else's business."

Numerous and Worthless.

Everything is in the same when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve, E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's the genuine. Sold by all Druggists.

Held to Answer.

Dr. Sam M. Crume, who is charged with shooting and wounding Mike Montedonico, in a quarrel at the house of Carrie and Tillie Ford, Third avenue and Market street, several weeks ago was held to answer on bond of $1,000 in Police Court this morning.

Attorneys W. D. Claybrooke, of Springfield, and James P. Reedy who appeared for Crume refused to allow their client to take the stand in his own defense announcing the conclusion of their case when the evidence for the Commonwealth was finished. Attorney James P. Edwards assisted Prosecution or Hagan on behalf of the family of Montedonico.

Several witnesses testified for the prosecution to the effect that Crume accompanied by two friends visited the apartments of the Ford sisters and that Crume's actions became so objectionable that he was asked by Montedonico to leave. After his departure, it is claimed, he returned and shot Montedonico while the latter was standing on the stair way in the rear of the apartments. Montedonico was in the hospital four weeks as a result of a wound in his side and another, in his leg. The witnesses said Dr. Crume fired six shots.

Crume is widely known in Washington county. He was on trial there some time ago for killing a negro, but was dismissed. He is married and has one child.

Tillie Ford, a witness, fainted in the court room and was carried to the office of Clerk Oldham. She was later removed to her home, 326 Preston street.—Times.

Tatham Springs.

As I have been absent for a short time will come again knocking for admittance.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Willie Coulter, Sr., a fine girl.

Mr. Willie Lucas and family, of Middleburg, Casey county, visited relatives here last week.

Dr. Hatchett and wife have gone to see the farmers brother, George Hatchett, who is very sick with typhoid fever.

Several of the folks that went to Linton last spring have returned to Kentucky. I will name some of them, Ed Dean and family, Dock Kays and family and Willie Jenkins.

Mrs. Sarah Dean an old and respected lady of the Pleasant Hill neighborhood died Thursday night, Sept. 7. She was buried Saturday in the old Dean graveyard on the farm of J. W. Satterly. She leaves one son and one daughter besides other relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Miss Addie Keeling entertained quite a number of friends last Wednesday night in a most charming manner. All seemed to enjoy themselves fine and as the saying goes it seemed that everybody was talking and nobody listening.

"The hotel at this place has closed for this season. This year has been one of the busiest years they have had in a long time as they have had a large number of visitors.

Miss Mattie Gordon is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ada Hardin near Taylorsville.

Messrs. Larkin White, Charlie White and Ula Jenkins have the flu fever very badly. They are going to leave Kentucky in a short time so they say.

SALES. Mr. Oscar Mobley sold a mare to Mr. Silas Armstrong for $80. Larkin White sold a horse for $80. Merrell Pinkston bought a new buggy, price unknown to writer. Messrs. John Jenkins and Ivan Carey bought a calf to butcher from W. N. Keeling at $2.75 per hundred.

Horrible Explosion

One of the most horrible accidents that ever occurred in this section took place at Stanford Saturday afternoon. J. T. Jones, a well known merchant of that city, was filling a gasoline lamp when an explosion occurred that was heard for more than a block. In a moment Mr. Jones was seen running into the street covered with flames from his waist to the top of his head. A number of bystanders saw him as he ran from the store, and he had to be knocked down by one of his friends and held before they could get to him to smother out the flames. Twelve hours later he died a most horrible death.

Mr. Jones was a very popular man, and the accident is deplored by the whole town of Stanford. It is stated by good authority that the accident was occasioned by pumping the air chamber of a

A pump had been furnished with the lamp, but Mr. Jones found that it did not work satisfactorily and borrowed a foot power bicycle pump to use on the lamp, thinking that would answer the purpose. At about the fourth stroke of the pump the explosion occurred.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Cured of Bright's Disease

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." Sold by The Red Cross Drug Store.

In Trouble Again.

Berkley Gordon was fined $50, John Bailey $50 and 30 days in prison, and Edgar Hourigan $20, for disturbing public worship at Mary Chapel the Sunday previous. Bailey and Gordon, both of Washington county, came to the church in an intoxicated condition and were soon in trouble, when members of the congregation took charge of them and promptly sent an officer to place them under arrest. While waiting for the officer Hourigan conceived the idea of securing the boys' release, when he too was taken in charge and turned over to the officer.—Lebanon Falcon.

The John Bailey mentioned in the same young man who was shot by Marshal John Grace at this place several weeks ago while trying to escape arrest.

TO CATARRH SUFFERERS

Hymel Guaranteed to Cure by The Red Cross Drug Store or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hymel are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remedy that the proprietors have authorized The Red Cross Drug Store to sell every package of Hymel under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by The Red Cross Drug Store.

The complete Hymel outfit costs but $1 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hymel. Tied in a halter lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hymel can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and your catarrh is cured. That's all.

If not cured The Red Cross Drug Store will refund your money.

Negro Killed.

Ben Stoner and Steve Gates, both colored, engaged in an altercation at the colored fair last Saturday and the former struck Gates over the head with a club, inflicting injuries from which Gates resulted Tuesday evening. Gates was aged about fifty years and was Stoner's stepfather, and it is said the difficulty originated over family disagreements. Gates died at the home of one Gregory in Harrodsburg. Stoner is a young negro and is in jail here awaiting his examining trial which takes place today. The home of the parties is at Samuels Depot.—Standard.

OF LOGG INTEREST.

SEVERE OPERATION.—W. D. Claybrooke returned home Sunday after being with his father, Mr. J. R. Claybrooke, who was operated on at St. Joseph's Infirmary, Louisville, last week for gall stones. The operation was performed by Drs. Vance and Matthews and no less than five stones the smallest of which was larger than a quail egg, were removed from Mr. Claybrooke's bladder. The operation is considered a remarkable one that Mr. Claybrooke who is 71 years of age should survive the ordeal. He underwent a similar operation seven years ago when one very large stone was removed. Mr. Claybrooke is rapidly recovering from the effects of the operation and hopes to be able to return home in a few days.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.
R. Spier, 180 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. I have prescribed for me a great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Sold by The Red Cross Drug Store.

$600 Given Away.
The Weekly Courier-Journal (Henry Watterson's paper) wants to share the profits of this prosperous year with its subscribers. It proposes to give a year's subscription, ranging from $100 to $200, amounting to $600 in all. There will be four general presents of $100, $50, $30 and $20, and sixteen presents of $80 and $20 to be given in the states of Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, Texas, Mississippi, Missouri, Virginia and Alabama. The plan is fair and simple. Write to the Courier-Journal Company, Louisville, Ky., for a copy of the Weekly Courier-Journal, giving full details. It will be sent free.

Always Successful.
When indigestion becomes chronic it is dangerous. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure indigestion and all troubles resulting therefrom, thus preventing Catarrh of the Stomach, Dr. J. C. DeWitt, of Leagues, W. Va., says: "I do suffer from indigestion or sour stomach I would say there is no better remedy than Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have prescribed it for a number of my patients with good success." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by all druggists.

DECLARE A DIVIDEND.—The Washington County Fair Co., made money on the meeting this year and the stock in the company should become a paying investment. The directors at a meeting held since the fair decided to declare a six per cent dividend on the stock and this still leaves a surplus in the treasury with which to do business next year. Some repairs and improvements are to be made in the grounds before the next fair which is expected to be bigger and better than ever.

PICTURE TAKEN.—A photograph of the officers of the Children's Fair Association appeared in the Courier-Journal last Monday. The likeness is a good one contains the following officers: President, Dunning Robertson; vice president, A. R. Shultz; secretary, Dudley Robertson; treasurer, Robert Mayers; directors, Charles Mayers, Koro Roberts, Bobbie Shultz, Booker Robertson, Ray Thurman, Mrs. A. R. Shultz, Mrs. C. C. McChord.

George Begemann, of Louisville, who is a practical harness maker.
A full outfit of machinery will be installed and quite a number of hands will be employed. The new concern will make harness for the wholesale trade only and have encouraging prospects.
Haydon & Barber who had contemplated starting a harness shop in connection with their business have decided to give way and leave the field clear to this new factory.

HARRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Townsman," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.
COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. BILLINGHAM COMPANY

"Rolling the body of the prostrate old man onto the deck, Morgan knelt down on the white sand by the form of the victim. The moonlight shone full upon her face, and as he stooped over her he saw that she was dead. A sudden flash of recognition came to him. With a muttered oath of surprise he looked again.

"It can't be!" he exclaimed. "And yet—"

After Fra Antonio's brave attempt at abolition the woman had faintly, now she opened her eyes, although she was not yet fully conscious.

"Water!" she gasped feebly. And as it came the boatman had a small bottle of the precious oil hanging from a strap over his shoulder. There was no pity in the heart of the pirate; he would have allowed the woman to die gasping for water without giving her a second thought, but when he recognized her—she who had been his mistress—his mind's desire to make her alive was the person he thought her she might have information of value. Distinguishing the boat and pulling out the cork, he placed it to her lips.

"—do," she murmured in a stronger voice. "A priest!"

"There is none here," answered the boatman. "Fra Antonio," he observed.

"But I must confess,"

"Confess to me," chuckled the old man in ghastly mockery.

"Art in holy orders, senior?" muttered the woman.

"Holy enough for you, say on."

"Fra Antonio, now," she continued, vacantly lapsing into semidelirium. "He married me—was a secret—his rank was so great. He was rich, I poor—humble. The marriage line—in the cross. The priest—what? What? That? A shot? The buccaneers. They are coming! Go not, Francisco!"

Hornigold, bending an attentive ear to these broken sentences, let not a word.

"Go not," she whispered, striving to lift an arm. "They will kill thee. They shall not leave me alone, my Francisco. Go, my Francisco!"

It was evident to the sailor that the poor woman's mind had gone back to the dreadful days of the sack of Panama. He was right then; it was she.

"The boy—have him, save him!" she cried suddenly with astonishing vigor. The sound of her own voice seemed to recall her to herself. She stopped; her eyes fell there wild glare and fixed themselves upon the man above her. His own face in the shadow as hers was in the light.

"Is it Panama?" she asked. "Those screams—the shot—the blood—the fire—when we fled to the city—the flames! Is it Panama?"

"Yes," answered the old-eyed seer. "The twenty-five years since then and more. You are here in La Guayra. This is the coast of Venezuela."

"Oh—the dome—the tower—I remember—now, I established myself there after the ladders. Who art thou, senior?"

"Benjamin Hornigold," cried the man severely, bending his face to hers.

"Hornigold!" she said.

"That is he."

"Does your mother," answered the buccaneer, smiling, pointing to the white figure on the sand.

"My mother?" cried Alvarado, stepping forward and looking down upon the upturned face, with his closely cut white hair, showing beautiful in the moonlight. "God rest her soul! She hath a lovely face and died in defense of her honor like the gentlewoman she should be. My mother! How know you this?"

"In the sack of Panama a woman gave me a male child, and for money I agreed to take it and leave it in a safe and secluded spot outside the city. I carried it at the hazard of my life as far as Cuba and there left it."

"But how know you that the child you left is?"

"At the girl's neck the mother she gave him to me, placed this curious cross you wear. 'Tis of such strength it will live and never die. I thought it under the sun that even I have seen. I knew it even in the faint light when my eyes fell upon it. I left the child with a peasant woman to take him where I had been directed. I believed him safe. On leaving Panama, that village lay in our backward path. We burned it down. I saw the baby again. Because I had been well paid and had him for my own, I took him to the hands of the buccaneers, who would have tossed him in the air on the point of a cannon. I, however, tempted them because it was silver, untended the dress and left the child. He was alive when we departed."

"And the day after," cried Alvarado, "De Lara's troops came through the city."

"I shall have him," he said, "and I shall have him."

"O God," he murmured, "give me strength to live and never die."
